

Hi Chris,

Just a note to say thank you for another great night.

The HSBC Insurance Brokers Christmas party was a great success and the Band played a massive part in this. Alibi were on top form, as per usual, and the 'in house' DJ was highly impressed with the way you worked together.

You turned up with plenty of time to set up before all 180 guests arrived and the personal touch that you added by playing the James Bond Theme tune at the beginning of the first set was a good touch! The music all night was brilliant and everyone who I have spoken with (even the people who weren't too keen on having a band at the party) couldn't praise you enough.

Please feel free to pass on my comments above to any new potential clients.

I look forward to working with you again in the near future.

Kind Regards
